

Who are BMI candidates?

Bradley-Morris sources and screens former military personnel to identify the top performing candidates that are seeking a civilian job.

- Attributes that make military candidates your best choice for new employees:
 - Formal and informal Leadership training
 - Ethics, responsibility, and accountability
 - Formal Technical training
 - Best technical / vocational schools in the country
 - On-the-job training and continuing education
 - Inherent Communication skills
 - Military teamwork relies heavily on motivational and communication skills
 - Diverse workforce
 - Nearly 1/3 of all BMI placements have been minority and/or female.
 - Other tangible benefits
 - Most candidates have free government relocation; Military is a perpetual talent pool

